The Auction Wedding.

One of the small state papers published an item this week which was a wierd mixup of an account of a wedding and an auction notice. The most interesting part of the item follows:

"William Smith, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction on my farm one mile east in the presence of seventy guests, including two mules and twelve head

"Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot for the parties, averaging 1,250 pounds on the roof. The beautiful home of the bride was decorated with one sulky rake, one feed grinder, and two sets of work harness, nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced the Mendel & Sons wedding march was rendered by one milk cow, five years old, one Jersey cow and one sheep, who carrying a bunch of bride roses in her hand, was very beautiful. She wore one light spring wagon, two crates of apples, three racks of hay and one grindstone of mousline desole, and trimmed about one hundred bushels of spuds. The bridal couple left yesterday on an extended trip. Terms spot cash.

To Contest Elections.

It seems that neither side is ever satisfied with the outcome of local option elections, especially if the vote is close. If the "drys" win the "wets" contest; if the "wets" win, the "drys" contest.

The elections held recently at Cartersville and Carthage, won by the wets," are being contested by the "drys" because of alleged illegal publication calling the election. The elections held at Macon and Mexico, won by the "drys" are being contested by the "wets."

TATE have asked you to base your judgement and your comparisons of value on the cold facts and figures. We ask you to compare this car with any you have in mind from the standpoint of appearance, of comfort-giving roominess, of ease and safety of handling, of power, hill-climbing ability—of downright money's worth.

The Plain Figures

The 1913-14 OVERLAND Touring Car, Roadster and Coupe are built on the same chassis. Every OVERLAND has electric head, side and tail and dash lights; storage battery; 35 horse power motor; 114-inch wheel base; Timken bearings; Splitdorf magneto; Model R Schebler carburetor; threequarter floating rear axle and 33x4-inch quick detachable tires. Every car has cowl dash; Brewster green body with ivory white striping, nickel and aluminum trimmings; Turkish uphostery; mohair top and boot; clear vision windshield; speedometer; electric horn; flush doors showing no hinges, and all necessary tools, etc.

Just fix these facts firmly in your mind:

The 1914 OVERLAND gives you practically all you can find in cars twice the price.

Note that the wheelbase is longer than ever—but the price is lower than ever.

Note that there is more power than ever-but the price is lower than ever.

Note that the tires are larger the car is bigger—but the price is lower than ever.

Observe the equipment includes electric lights and storage battery (and for a very slight extra electric starting service)—but the price is lower than ever.

Note the addition of electric horn and jeweled speedometer — and other features like new oiling system, regulation of carburetor, etc. —but the price is lower than ever.

Just think what this means—just compare this newest OVERLAND part for part, feature for feature with any and all cars costing again as much—and we are sure your choice will be an OVERLAND.

But—before you decide—as a final measure get a ride in an OVER-LAND - try it out under every
